SCHOOLGIRL LAID TO REST

'Sad but fitting' send-off for 14-year-old Liberty Baker

HUNDREDS of people packed a Witney church on Monday for the funeral of 14-year-old Liberty Baker, who was killed walking to school last month.

Around 400 people filled Our Lady and St Hugh's Catholic Church in Moorland Road as well as spilling onto the garden and car park.

Crowds fell silent as the hearse made its way to the church, before Liberty was laid to rest at Tower Hill Cemetery.

Church priest Father Patrick Broun said: "As sad as it was, and I wish we weren't doing it, I believe it was a fitting tribute to have so many people there.

"When the deacon led the hearse to the church and the cemetery, the silence from the people stood outside, you could hear a pin drop.

"The church was completely full, people were standing in the garden, some in the car park, which was lovely."

Mayor of Witney Jeanette Baker attended the funeral on behalf of the town council.

She said: "I just think it's incredibly sad.

"I thought it was a beautiful service, and that the family and friends were very brave.

"I can't imagine how it must be, especially for her mum and dad, let alone friends. It must be dreadful for them."

Fellow town councillor Duncan Enright, who also attended the funeral, added: "I think it was a very moving and fitting service that just shows the level of regard for Liberty and her family across the town and in the parish."

It comes after thousands of balloons filled the sky in her memory on Saturday.

Hundreds of people gathered at Church Green to release around 5,000 balloons in her favourite colours of blue and purple, each with Liberty's name written on the side.

Cheers rang out as the balloons were released in her honour at around 3pm.

Liberty died on June 30 after she was hit by a car in Curbridge Road as she was walking to the Henry Box School.

An 18-year-old man was arrested on suspicion of death by dangerous driving the same day and has been bailed until August 10.

New residents in Mouse Town

WHITE and brown mice have moved into a model village as part of a new exhibit for disabled children to enjoy at Fairytale Farm, near Chipping Norton.

Mouse Town is the newest feature introduced at the Southcombe site.

It opened last year as the UK's first destination for youngsters with disabilities - and includes a sensory garden and animals.

Demolition day countdown is on

DIDCOT'S southern cooling towers will be demolished in just three days time but members of the public are being told not to attend the blow down.

The three towers will be demolished between 3am and 5am on Sunday after being a part of the Oxfordshire landscape for 42 years.

Despite pressure from members of the public and Didcot MP Ed Vaizey, energy company npower and demolition firm Coleman & Company have refused to delay the event until 6am.

And now they are warning members of the public not to attend the demolition and

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

instead watch a live stream of proceedings - citing safety reasons over the use of 180kg of separate explosive charges.

"We are acutely aware this first part of this demolition is an issue which local people feel strongly about, however safety has to come first," the companies said in a statement.

"Explosive demolition can be dangerous if not managed in a professional and coordinated manner.

"It is with this in mind that we would advise people not to attend the demolition.

"We are not just seeking to reduce risk in the immediate vicinity of the site but also further afield where large crowds may gather to watch the demolition.

"We will be recording the event using a number of different filming methods, and we will ensure that this footage will be made publicly available."

Npower announced the timing of the demolition last month, prompting 3,059 people to sign a petition, set up by Didcot resident Christine Reardon, to delay the process until 6am.

Mr Vaizey also wrote in his column in last week's Oxfordshire Guardian that after discussions over safety he could not "see the difference between a blow down at 6am and between 3am and 5am".

Npower said the timing of the demolition was agreed with the Health and Safety Executive, Network Rail, Highways Agency, Oxfordshire County Council and Thames Valley Police.

As well as the safety of the public, the nearby railway line and A34 were among the main concerns.

At present, no public event has been organised for the demolition of the towers, something Didcot Town Council said it would have supported had the opportunity arisen.

Town clerk Dominic Stapleton said: "Like most other people we had no idea of the proposed date until recently so there has been no opportunity to organise an event safely, responsibly and effectively.

"RWE npower clearly don't want to be involved in such an event and without their co-operation it is not possible."

Developers Taylor Wimpey planned to make an area available at Great Western Park for members of the public to watch the demolition.

However, on Tuesday the plans were withdrawn due to the risk of dust being blown onto the estate.

A 300m exclusion zone will be in place around the towers during the demolition while Purchas Road and Milton Road will be temporarily closed.

No residential properties are included in the exclusion zone while police will be present throughout.

Free parking will be available at Didcot Parkway for anyone wishing to watch the demolition.

Charity golf

MILTON COMMON: A charity golf day held at The Oxfordshire course has raised more than £24,000 for Hearing Dogs For Deaf People.

The day, which took place on July 11, saw dozens of players take to the golfing greens near Thame, including BBC Breakfast presenter Naga Munchetty.

The money was raised for the national charity based near York.

The Oxfordshire's club captain Rob Daniels said: "I know the funds raised will be put to good use by the charity, and I'd like to thank everyone involved for making this day so successful."

Swimming safe

OXFORD: A video about swimming safely in open water produced by Film Oxford's Digital Youth Collective will get its premiere at Hinksey Park on Saturday.

'River Safe' has been created to highlight the dangers of open water swimming to young people, and features interviews with representatives from Oxfordshire Fire and Rescue Service and the county council.

As well as Hinksey Park, the film is also being shown at Sunnymead Park on August 2 and at Fettiplace Recreational Ground on August 16.

Each event starts at 9pm, and the film is being screened alongside a feature-length movie.

Get active offer

CHERWELL: Discounted swim and gym sessions for young people aged 18 to 25 are being offered at three Cherwell leisure centres from Monday.

Kidlington and Gosford Leisure Centre, Bicester Leisure Centre and Spiceball Leisure Centre in Banbury will be holding £2 sessions until September 22.

Those who attend six sessions over the eight weeks will get one month's free membership, followed by a reduced rate for a 12-month membership.

George Reynolds, Cherwell's deputy leader, said: "Often the most difficult step is getting people through the door for the first time."

Jury consider murder verdicts

THE jury in the Jayden Parkinson murder trial will continue deliberating verdicts today after being sent home on Tuesday.

The six men and six women have been deliberating since last Wednesday after a 19-day trial.

Ben Blakeley, 22, of Christchurch Road, Reading, has admitted killing the Didcot teenager but denies murder.

His younger brother Jake Blakeley, of Venners Water, Didcot, pleaded guilty to perverting the cause of justice but not guilty to preventing a lawful burial.

Oxford Crown Court heard Ben Blakeley killed Jayden in a field near Upton on December 3 after grabbing her around the neck.

Jayden's body was buried in the field on December 5 before being re-buried in the grave of Ben's uncle Alan Kennedy four days later.

Both defendants remain in custody.

The trial continues.

Residents to have say on housing proposals

A CONSULTATION on potential housing developments across West Oxfordshire over the next 15 years is set to be launched on Monday.

WODC cabinet members approved the consultation at their meeting last week following changes to the council's draft Local Plan, which sets out development in the district.

It is thought that 11,880 more homes are needed in the district by 2029, following a recommendation made in the 2014 Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA).

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

But the council is only proposing to increase its overall target to 9,450 homes, with Cllr Warwick Robinson saying that was because of the "over-delivery" of a previous housing target.

He said: "We have thoroughly investigated the findings, along with other latest evidence, and are now at the position of proposing a new housing target.

"Although it is lower than that recommended in the SHMA, given that figures were exaggerated by over-delivery on our previous housing target, it is higher than that target.

"This means we have had to relook at our approach to meeting the necessary demands.

"Whilst we recognise that we are not going to be able to please everyone, we have to take a balanced view and look at the impact and results for West Oxfordshire overall.

"The increased target will allow significant headway to be made in the provision of affordable housing and economic needs, whilst recognising the environmental and infrastructure constraints facing the district."

Proposals show that Witney, Carterton and Chipping Norton would be the primary areas for development.

Sites at west, east and north Witney, on MOD land in Carterton and in the east of the town, and land east of Chipping Norton have been suggested for housing.

Eynsham, Woodstock, Long Hanborough, Burford and Charlbury could also see development, as well as smaller-scale sites at a number of West Oxfordshire villages.

The consultation is due to end on September 19, ahead of a final version of the Local Plan being published and submitted to the independent planning inspector in Spring next year.

PM wants me out, says family rights campaigner

A FATHER campaigning in Witney for better family rights has said that the Prime Minister wants him out of the town as he is "frustrating constituents".

Chris Tompson has been in Witney since last month, and has parked his car outside David Cameron's constituency office in Witney High Street.

Mr Cameron spoke to him on July 11 to discuss Chris' concerns about family law, and also expressed concerns about the impact of his protest.

"He said he needs to have me gone, because I was frustrating the constituents" said Chris.

"But what I told him was it was me going round to the constituents and asking them to complain so the Prime Minister would deal with me."

Natasha Whitmill, press officer at David Cameron's constituency office, said: "Mr Cameron said if Mr Tompson wrote down his grievances it would be looked into.

"The Prime Minister also expressed his concern about the adverse impact Mr Tompson is having on local residents and businesses in his constituency."

Inclusive sports

WEST OXON: Sports sessions for young people with disabilities or behavioural difficulties in West Oxfordshire are being held from tomorrow.

The district council's Inclusive Sports Opportunities project will be for 14 to 25-year-olds with special needs, with sports including football, basketball and dance.

Sessions run at Carterton Community College tomorrow, Chipping Norton School next Wednesday and Witney's Windrush Leisure Centre on August 20.

Register to vote

WEST OXON: Residents in West Oxfordshire will soon be responsible for registering themselves so they can vote in elections.

The Individual Electoral Registration (IER) system is being introduced over the summer, and while most people will move onto the new electoral register automatically, some will need to sign up online.

West Oxfordshire District Council is contacting all residents in the district about the changes this month.

Those who do not receive a letter by August 8 should call 01993 861410.

Jobs are saved

WITNEY: More than 80 jobs have been saved at a Witney furniture store after it was bought by new owners.

Corndell Furniture Company had gone into administration three weeks ago with the loss of 31 jobs, but a further 84 have been saved through the company purchase by Corndell Quality Furniture Limited.

Community centre at heart of fiery dispute

ABOUT 50 protesters gathered outside East Oxford Community Centre on Monday in a bid to stop Oxford City Council from taking it over.

East Oxford Community Association, which operates the Cowley Road centre, was given four weeks notice last month to leave the council-owned premises.

They had until 4pm on Monday to go but the council were unable to evict them.

Catherine Gundry, association trustee, said: "The council turned up on Monday afternoon trying to threaten the committee if we didn't think again, and we'd be taken to court.

"Really the boots on the other foot and we should be taking them to court for harassment and distress, but we'll continue to seek advice and let people know what's happening."

But the council said the association "is not fit to run" the centre.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Oxford City Council spokesman Louisa Dean said: "The council has sought to remove East Oxford Community Association from the centre as it has determined the association is not fit to run such a property.

"They are now left with two options: to resist the council's actions and we will have to consider formal proceedings, or to agree to the council's proposals."

The council's Communities and Neighbourhoods team would take over management.

The centre's programme of events is to continue.

A petition called "leave East Oxford Community Centre alone" has gained more than 500 signatures.

Former East Oxford resident Gill Breeze said: "After all the work that's gone into the place, the association should be given support to carry on the great work in this centre."

Bobbies on the beat commended in report

OXFORDSHIRE'S police force has been praised in a new report by Her Majesty's Inspectorate of Constabulary (HMIC).

HMIC's Valuing the Police report, released on Tuesday, states the force is on track to achieve its target savings of £58.9million for the 2011/12 to 2014/15 period.

It also recognised Thames Valley Police's ability to make the savings while making a much smaller reduction in officer and staff numbers than other forces.

It added they have been able to increase the numbers of frontline officers.

Chief constable Sara Thornton said: "We are pleased the report recognises Thames Valley Police's dedication to providing a high quality policing service to the communities we serve.

"However we need to reduce our budgets by a further £38m over the next three years.

"This will be really tough but we will do everything we can to ensure that the service to the public is protected."

Police and crime commissioner Anthony Stansfeld added: "This is an encouraging and useful report from HMIC.

"Thames Valley Police has managed the considerable financial cuts well through greater efficiency, collaboration with other forces and through better use of technology."

Election change

OXFORD: Members of the public will receive letters from the city council over the next fortnight about changes to electoral registration.

Oxford City Council is changing the registration process to Individual Electoral Registration.

This means every individual in a household who is eligible to vote will now be responsible for their own voter registration.

Previously, one form was used to register everyone at an address.

Student F1

OXFORD: Students from Oxford Brookes University have finished as the top British team in an international motor racing competition.

Formula Student sees teams from across the world design and build their own racing car, before taking to the track in a series of competitions.

Brookes finished sixth overall at Silverstone last Wednesday, with the event being won by Delft University of Technology of the Netherlands.

Formula Student is Europe's most established educational motorsport competition run by the Institution of Mechanical Engineers.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Josh Florey feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps.

Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service Oxfordshire from their local depots and Josh is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truthis that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Josh a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Silver stolen

WATLINGTON: An antique clock, laptop and the family silver were stolen in a burglary at a Brook Street house between July 10 and 11.

The house was empty at the time, and when the residents returned, they found a rear window had been forced open and the items stolen.

Anyone with information is asked to call police on 101.

Scam warning

OXON: Residents are being warned about a cold calling scam where fraudsters offer a council tax rebate in exchange for bank details.

George Reynolds, deputy leader of Cherwell District Council, said: "We would urge anyone who receives a cold call from someone claiming to be from the council and asking for bank details to hang up."

Fellows chosen

OXFORD: Nine of the 42 new fellows of the British Academy who have been selected are from Oxford University – more than any other institution.

Professors Francesco Billari, Susanne Bobzien, Georgina Born, Gavin Flood, Henrietta Harrison, Stephen Smith Cecilia Trifogli, and Sarah Whatmore, along with Dr Susan Brigden, were chosen in recognition of their research in the humanities and social sciences.

Redevelopment plan for Oxford criticised

PLANS to redevelop land in north Oxford have been criticised by the Campaign to Protect Rural England (CPRE).

Oxford City Council wants to develop 90,000m² of land at the Northern Gateway between Wolvercote Roundabout and the Peartree Interchange – 35,000m² more than originally planned in its Core Strategy.

The Oxfordshire CPRE branch said it is "fearful" of the visual impact on the city's Green Belt.

CPRE Oxfordshire director Helen Marshall said: "We are now fearful the expanded scheme could have a significant visual impact on the surrounding Green Belt, including Port Meadow.

"The Area Action Plan (AAP) includes proposals for five storey buildings and we have already seen the devastation that such development can have on the visual amenity of Port Meadow."

Plans to change the Green Belt boundary to remove part of the Wolvercote Conservation Area is among the proposals.

CPRE say this goes against an inspector's ruling in 1994 that the area should be protected.

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

However, city council leader Bob Price labelled the claims as "nonsense".

Cllr Price added: "The site has featured as a key development site for high tech business in the City Deal and the county-wide Strategic Economic Plan (SEP) developed by the Local Enterprise Partnership."

The city council said the amount of employment land was increased to reflect the need beyond 2026 and more land was added after emergency services said they no longer wanted a base at the new development.

The city council also plans to build 500 homes, a new link road between the A40 and A44, improve the Wolvercote and Cutteslowe roundabouts and add more parking spaces to the Peartree Park and Ride.

The AAP was approved at a city council meeting on Monday, July 14.

A consultation ends in September and the city council hopes to submit the AAP to the government in October, to be adopted in June next year.

More ring road traffic misery

A CONTRAFLOW system will come into force as part of the Kennington Roundabout and Hinksey Hill Interchange revamp from Sunday, bringing further congestion to the area.

It will reduce the A423 to one lane in each direction full time between Hinksey Hill and Heyford Hill Interchange until early November.

Further restrictions and closures will be implemented at Kennington Roundabout, Old Abingdon Road and Kennington Road.

David Nimmo Smith, Oxfordshire County Council's cabinet member for transport, said: "Up until now we have been able to work during off-peak hours to minimise delays, but this is not possible as we enter the next phase.

"The best advice is to look at whether you can use another form of transport, or maybe change your journey and use one of the park and rides around Oxford.

"Ultimately the inconvenience drivers are putting up with at the moment will be replaced with a far more efficient journey once our work is complete."

The £6million work on the junctions began last month.

The project is due to be completed by the end of November this year.

Bike thieves strike Oxford city centre

ALMOST 2,000 bikes were stolen in Oxford over the last year, Thames Valley Police has revealed.

There were 1,955 cycle theft offences in the city centre between April 2013 and April 2014 – a reduction of 377 on the previous year.

Sergeant Matthew Sulley said: "When your bike is stolen it can have a significant impact on your way of life, especially if it's your primary mode of transport, or be quite distressing if it's a treasured possession.

"Police are working hard to drive cycle crime down, both by helping people keep their property safe and by tackling the offenders head on by arresting them."

Six people have been charged or cautioned for theft and three people for being in possession of stolen bikes during police patrols over the last week.

Detective Chief Inspector Andy Bird added: "We actively investigate all bicycle crimes because we understand the impact they have on people in Oxford.

"We actively pursue, arrest and charge cycle thieves and those who knowingly buy stolen cycles."

Officers are encouraging people to lock bikes securely and log them on security website bikeregister.com.

High hopes for new publisher's website to buy and sell online

Sellit247

FOLLOWING weeks of planning, a new online platform for residents of Oxfordshire and beyond to buy and sell is being launched today.

The sellit247.co.uk website gives sellers the chance to self-manage their own sales and accounts mostly free of fees.

Unwanted items, used cars, vans and motorcycles and property to let can be advertised on the site, and jobs can be posted online with relative ease as soon as a vacancy becomes available. The sellit247 site is operated by Didcot-based multi-media publishers Taylor Newspapers from their headquarters on the Southmead Industrial Estate.

It joins daily news websites oxfordshireguardian.co.uk and basingstokeobserver.co.uk as its third online platform.

By Andy Allens
news@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Taylor Newspapers Managing Director, Howard Taylor, said: "The website is now live but even before today's launch we have had over 29,000 visitors to the site from as far as Truro in the west and Essex in the east, which is really encouraging.

"We are providing a new opportunity for our advertisers and readers to buy and sell online and enjoy full control over the selling process.

"Cars for sale posted on the site will also benefit from appearing in the printed version of our newspapers – the Oxfordshire Guardian group of six weeklies and the Basingstoke Observer.

"Posts will appear on the site as soon as the advert has been created and we encourage sellers to make use of the free image uploads where up to four pictures can be uploaded to aid the selling process."

Users can create their own username and login to manage their own account.

Taylor Newspapers Operations Manager, Ted Woodhouse, said: "I have been involved in the development of this website and I am delighted with the interest shown in the site even before we officially launched it.

"I believe this new website will give advertisers, particularly in the local area, a great opportunity to buy and sell online."

Fire station

OXFORD: Residents in Headington can see how their local fire station operates at an open day at Slade Park on Saturday.

Firefighters will carry out a range of demonstrations, while visitors can handle rescue equipment and chat with operational crews.

Crews will be raising money for The Fire Fighters Charity during the day, which runs from noon to 4pm.

Building award

OXFORD: An Oxford Brookes University building has missed out on the shortlist for the prestigious Stirling Prize – one of architecture's top honours.

The John Henry Brookes Building had been nominated for the prize, which includes other iconic structures like The Shard in London.

But it was voted as one of the top-15 buildings in the country by the Royal Institute of British Architects (RIBA), following on from a national award it received last month.

More parking

OXFORD: New parking facilities have been finished in Wood Farm as part of Oxford City Council's Great Estates project.

Parking for nine vehicles has been created by the redevelopment of a former drying area in Mason's Road.

Police search for flasher in Bicester park

A MAN wearing a luminous pink polo top exposed himself to two women aged 18 and 21 in the Bure Park Nature Reserve in Bicester on Sunday.

The women were walking along the main pathway in the nature reserve when the man approached them at around 7.30pm.

He exposed himself before leaving down the same path.

He was in his mid-30s, white, around 5ft 6ins to 5ft 8ins tall with fair skin, short dark brown hair with a receding hairline and light stubble.

The man was also wearing a luminous pink polo top with a white and black horizontal line across the chest, and tan-coloured shoes.

Investigating officer PC Nickie Harrison said: "Although it is unlikely that any members of the public would have witnessed the incident itself, they may have seen the man walking towards or away from the offence location.

"There are believed to have been a number of members of the public walking dogs in the reserve at the time, and the hope is that someone will recall seeing the man in his distinctive clothing."

Anyone with information about the exposure should contact police on 101.

Top brand stores sign up to £500m Westgate

BIG name retailers have signed up to the £500million redevelopment of Westgate Shopping Centre.

Oxford City Council leader Bob Price said the companies are "impressive" but, at present, he is not allowed to give any names.

So far, only John Lewis, which will be the redevelopment's flagship store, has been announced for the Queen Street centre.

Cllr Price said: "They are very impressive national and international names and I think it will make a massive difference to the shopping offer in Oxford."

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Spokesperson for the Westgate Alliance undertaking the development, George Wilkinson, confirmed talks have been held with other big name companies to join John Lewis.

And on Tuesday evening the city council's West Area Planning Committee approved plans for land off Osney Lane to become a temporary car park for two years while Westgate and its car park is shut.

The Westgate Oxford Alliance, a joint venture between property companies the Crown Estate and Land Securities, held a second four-day consultation for the plans which ended on Monday.

This included new designs unveiled for John Lewis, which will overlook Castle Mill Stream.

More than 500 people viewed the plans.

Sara Fuge, development manager for Westgate Oxford Alliance, said: "We had a very positive response to our consultation on the emerging designs in April and have spent the last few months progressing these.

"We were very excited to share the final detailed designs."

The centre will include shops, restaurants and a cinema and will be expanded into four different buildings, set in a mix of covered streets, arcades, lanes and squares.

Members of the public will be able to access the centre from all directions with planners putting 11 different entrances in place.

There will also be three public squares, including Bonn Square, with Middle Square and South Square.

An underground car park will also be installed at the south of the shopping centre, with the current multi-storey to be demolished in place of the new buildings.

The revamp also includes 122 apartments off Abbey Place.

After the first consultation changes including installing cycle parking on Turn Again Lane and improving the basement car park entrance were made.

The Alliance aim to secure detailed planning consent by the end of the year to begin building work next year.

Cllr Price added: "I am very impressed by the quality architecture. I think it will deliver all we wanted in terms of an exciting new part of the city centre."

Fears raised over plans for new gravel pit

FOUR South Oxfordshire villages have joined forces to oppose plans for a gravel pit and concrete processing plant being built on their doorsteps.

Residents in Clifton Hampden, Long Wittenham, Culham and Appleford fear the 160-hectare development will ruin the countryside and clog up rural roads.

Waste disposal company Hills want to build the plant east of the railway at Culham and south of the A415, and plan to submit a planning application in December.

The proposed site lies 200m from Clifton Hampden and Appleford and 450m from Long Wittenham.

And a campaign group called Burcot and Clifton Hampden for the Protection of the River Thames (BACHPORT) now plan to raise around £26,000 to hire legal help and fight an impending planning application.

Ian Mason, spokesperson for BACHPORT, said: "If this project is allowed it would ruin a beautiful part of the countryside.

"The big issue for lots of people is the traffic.

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

"If you try and get from Long Wittenham to Clifton Hampden it's difficult now especially in the peak times.

"If you say you are going to have two tonne lorries through there it will be log jam."

BACHPORT has pledged £1,000 towards the funding and expect £2,000 from Clifton Hampden & Burcot Parish Council.

Long Wittenham, Culham and Appleford parish councils are expected to put £1,000 each towards the legal fees.

Mr Mason added: "We have had lots of volunteers and people register interests. They are helping us work on our campaign."

Long Wittenham Parish Council chairman Tom Bowtell described the latest plans as a "nightmare".

Jon Woodley-Shead, chairman of Culham Parish Council, added: "I would prefer it if they don't put the gravel pit there."

Chris Neill MBE, chair of Clifton Hampden & Burcot Parish Council, said: "We are naturally worried about any increase in pollution or drop in air quality that may result from an increase in traffic, especially from HGV vehicles."

Hills say they will extract 4.75million tonnes of mineral from the site in 25 years while 35-40 HGV's will access the plant from the A415 every day.

A scoping request was submitted in April with Oxfordshire County Council informing Hills that an environmental statement will need to be submitted alongside a planning application.

Peter Andrew, group director of Hills Quarry Products, said: "As part of the development for this new proposal, independent consultants will assess all possible environmental effects as specified in the scoping opinion provided by the council.

"The results of these assessments and any mitigation methods will be included in the environmental statement that will form part of the final planning application submission."

Exercise for free

SOUTH OXON: Free exercise classes for women are being offered over the summer at Willowbrook Leisure Centre in Didcot and Park Club in Milton.

Users can choose six classes to try for free, with vouchers for sessions available by emailing lil.roe@southandvale.gov.uk.

Bill Service, cabinet member for leisure at South Oxfordshire District Council, said: "This is a really great offer and we hope many women take advantage over the summer months."

Art at Brookes

OXFORD: Award-winning artist and Oxford Brookes alumnus Ruth Simons will be presenting her work in the university's Abercrombie Glass Tank from today.

The exhibition 'Order' explores ideas of growth and man's perception of nature through drawings, paintings and sculptures.

It is running in the Abercrombie Building at the university's Headington campus until August 29.

Road resurfacing

CUMNOR: A £540,000 project to resurface the B4044 Eynsham Road gets underway on Monday.

Work is expected to last for four weeks, and Oxfordshire County Council are anticipating delays in the area as a result.

Mice move into a new home as part of Fairytale Farm attraction

A FAMILY of mice living in the model village of Mouse Town are set to become the latest attraction at Chipping Norton's Fairytale Farm when the exhibit opens on Saturday.

The village is based on an English rural town, complete with shops, a church, houses, pond and a jailhouse.

And visitors can watch on as the mice go about their daily business.

Nick Laister, owner of Fairytale Farm, said: "We are delighted to open our newest attraction just in time for the summer holidays.

"Children will love watching our family of white and grey mice scampering around, looking out of windows, shopping in the butchers and cheese shop, and visiting the spooky graveyard."

Fairytale Farm opened in June last year as the first UK attraction designed specifically for disabled children.

It features a mix of other attractions, including a sensory garden, farm animals and an adventure playground.

"We always try and do something different at Fairytale Farm, and I am sure that our visitors will be equally enthralled by Mouse Town," Nick added.

Boundaries are changed

A HISTORICAL boundary has been altered as part of a South Oxfordshire District Council (SODC) review.

Land around the A4130 by-pass, which was in Cholsey and Brightwell-cum-Sotwell, has been moved into the Wallingford parish.

The decision was made at last Thursday's full council, and changes will come into effect next year.

It will see the Winterbrook estate become part of Wallingford after being in Cholsey for hundreds of years.

Chairman of Cholsey Parish Council Mark Gray said he feared the 100-home estate would be developed if the boundary was changed.

One amendment to the proposal was for the boundary between Brightwell-cum-Sotwell to align with the verge on the Wallingford side of the by-pass.

Didcot's boundary was also amended to include land in West Hagbourne and Long Wittenham and the section of the Millbrook estate in East Hagbourne.

The Vale of White Horse District Council's Community Governance Review was discussed at full council last Wednesday.

The proposal to move the part of Grove Technology Park from East Challow parish into Grove was rejected - but another review could be carried out after May 2015.

Guilty verdict over deaths of two kids

A WOMAN found guilty of the manslaughter of two children, after an arson attack on an Oxford home 17 years ago, is due to be sentenced tomorrow.

Fiaz Munshi, 38, of Manley Road, Oldham, in Lancashire, was cleared of the murder of nine-year-old Anum Khan and her brother Majid, 15, on Tuesday at Oxford Crown Court, but convicted of manslaughter.

It comes almost 17 years after police and firefighters were called to the Khan/Akhtar household in Magdalen Road on August 26, 1997, when the fire broke out.

Six of the seven people inside the house managed to escape, but Anum died in the fire and Majid died two days later in hospital after suffering severe burns to his head and body.

Munshi was arrested on suspicion of murder in September 1997.

But there was not enough evidence to charge her, so she was released and flew to Pakistan.

But just days later new evidence surfaced, and five people were convicted of murder in October and November 1998. Four others were also sentenced for perverting the course of justice.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

A 10th person, Munshi's sister Riaz, was convicted of manslaughter in 1999.

Munshi was then re-arrested on October 22 last year, after a member of the Khan/Akhtar family made enquires about her in 2012. It was found she had been back in the UK since 2005.

Detective Inspector Craig Kirby of Thames Valley Police's Major Crime Unit said: "I cannot put into words how difficult this case has been for the family of Anum and Majid, and I know how important this verdict is to them.

"Enquiries undertaken following the call from the family in 2012 have not established why action was not taken by Thames Valley Police in 2005 to investigate evidence against Munshi.

"However, as soon as we identified this new opportunity to bring her to justice, a full review of the case was conducted which resulted in her successful arrest and prosecution."

Adrian Foster, chief crown prosecutor for Thames and Chiltern Crown Prosecution Service, said: "Majid and Anum's family and friends have been devastated by their untimely deaths.

"We know that nothing will bring Majid and Anum back to their family and friends, but we hope that [Tuesday's] conviction brings them at least a small sense that justice has once again been done.

Rowers to set up camp below town hall in charity challenge

• Lisa Treacher (background) and Lisa Letchford during last year's rowing challenge

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

OWNERS of a gym will be taking a on rowing challenge in the middle of Wallingford town centre this week as they aim to conquer the world's waterways.

Lisa Treacher and Lisa Letchford, co-owners of Lifestyles Gym & Rehab Centre in Benson Lane, Wallingford, will be rowing the length of the Seine – the third longest river in France – over the course of 35 hours.

The pair will park two static rowers underneath the town hall in Market Place for the feat from 5am tomorrow until 4pm on Saturday.

They are hoping to raise more than £3,000 for cancer charity HeadCase and Helen & Douglas House Hospice in Oxford.

British rower Chris Boddy will help the duo complete the 776km challenge.

Ms Treacher said: "Chris and his friends are going to come down and help us so when we hear things like that it puts our minds at rest a little bit.

"Considering Lisa and I rowed 66km each last year it is quite daunting."

The pair completed the distance of the English Channel last year – about 564km – having previously conquered the length of the River Thames.

After naturally progressing towards France, they decided to extend their challenge into international waters.

"We thought 'we have done the length of the Thames and the Channel and we are now in France so why don't we make the point of trying to go round the world'.

"It is a nice way to think that over the years we could have gone all the way round the world."

Last year, the duo were joined by England hockey player Alex Danson and GB rower Zac Purchase.

Danson is competing at the Commonwealth Games in Glasgow but it is hoped Purchase will help out again this year.

"He has been tweeted," said Lisa.

"We are going to chase him but if we can get him there we definitely will."

Twelve months ago they were also joined by members of the public who had just returned from a night out on the town.

"We had drunks coming off the bus at 3am to help us," said Lisa. "It was amazing."

She added: "The hardest thing is staying awake for the whole 35 hours.

"But it is such an amazing atmosphere and such an adrenaline buzz that I think we will be fine."

Town's MG links hailed

A GARDEN honouring car-maker MG's history in Abingdon was officially opened by the town's mayor Angela Lawrence last Thursday.

The MG Garden, in Ock Street, has been developed by the MG Car Club and Abingdon Town Council, with the aim of documenting the history and impact MG has had in the area.

It features a paved MG logo in the centre, as well as seven display boards detailing the history of its factory.

Julian White, general manager of the MG Car Club, said: "This has been a real community project from the start, with help from Abingdon residents, local historians and Car Club members.

"It's very rewarding to see the garden being used and enjoyed."

At the peak of its car production, MG employed around 1,300 workers at its Abingdon factory, and built roughly 1,000 cars a week.

The factory, formerly situated close to the MG Car Club's current base in Cemetery Road, opened in 1929 before closing in 1980.

Film screening

OXFORD'S Phoenix Picturehouse is raising funds for The Royal British Legion on Monday, with an 8pm screening of the classic war film 'Born On The Fourth Of July'.

Eight cinemas across the UK are taking part in the screenings to mark the centenary of the outbreak of the First World War this September.

Italy in war

A PLAY documenting the plight of Italy in the early 20th century will be staged at the Old Fire Station in Oxford from today.

The Cap and Bells was written in 1916 but was largely ignored as a theatre piece until the 1930s, and has become increasingly popular since then.

The show is running until Saturday, and show times can be found at oldfirestation.org.uk.

Reggae at O2

DANCEHALL and reggae fusion icon Sanchez performs live at the O2 Academy in Oxford for a one-off show tomorrow from 10pm.

Sanchez has been working in the music industry since 1987, releasing his most recent album 'Love You More' three years ago.

For more details go to o2academyoxford.co.uk.

Buddy visits New Theatre

THE long running West End show Buddy, which celebrates the life and music of the iconic American musician Buddy Holly, comes to Oxford's New Theatre from Monday.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Buddy is celebrating its 25th anniversary this year, and joins a select number of musicals that have reached this landmark milestone.

Rather than being a tribute show, it starts off as a play documenting the rise of Buddy's career, ending with a reconstruction of his final concert before his death in 1959 aged 22.

Glen Joseph, who plays Buddy in the show, has been performing in the role since 2009.

"It is essentially a play with music about the story of Buddy's life," said Glen.

"A lot of people who love Buddy's music don't necessarily come for the play, they come for the final concert he gave in Iowa, and that's the last 40 minutes of the show.

"We recreate the concert as it happens, before he went off to catch the plane which ultimately was the end of his life."

As part of his role, Glen met with Buddy's widow María Elena a few years ago to conduct a series of interviews with her for YouTube.

Glen said this had helped him better understand Buddy's life, and how he enjoys playing a real character rather than someone fictional.

He said: "With the story of Buddy's life, it's stepping into incredibly large shoes rather than a fictional character.

"The amount of research you do for something like this is far more extensive than being given a role that somebody's dreamed up.

"I've met with María, and she was absolutely wonderful, and it's with her good grace that the show goes on.

"The insight she gave me into the man was something I could not possibly have learned from either videos or books."

Buddy is running at the New Theatre in George Street until August 2.

For a full list of show times and ticket prices, go to newtheatreoxford.org.uk or call the box office on 0844 871 3020.

EDINBURGH PREVIEW NIGHT

Two Great one hour shows

Joe Lycett: Work in Progress

Join award-winning sparky stand up Joe Lycett as he workshops material for his third new hour show. Expect it to be rough round the edges, interactive, potentially slightly awkward, but most of all BLOOD YGOOD FUN. His 2012 show got nominated for Edinburgh Comedy Award Best Newcomer so it can't be all bad.

As seen on 'Celebrity Juice' and 'Never Mind the Buzzcocks'.

*"Imaginative and cheekily subversive comedy ...Entertainingly mischievous"– Guardian

*"A delightfully natural style that builds a real connection with the audience ...an accomplished storyteller"– Chortle

Angela Barnes: You Can't Take It With You

Hotly anticipated debut hour from BBC's New Comedy Award winner and star of Ch4's 'Stand Up For The Week'.

Angela is getting on, and is thinking about the big stuff, you know, life, love, family, work and death. And how rubbish she is at all of it.

*"Hers is a world-weary and devastatingly matter-of-fact outlook on the world that really makes her stand out. Like all the best comics, she manages to articulate a singular perspective while making it seem like a universal truth"– The Guardian

*"Beautifully paced"– Chortle

Please bear in mind that this show will contain strong language and adult humour

Dance Week

DANCE Week gets underway at Chipping Norton Theatre on Monday, giving participants the chance to train with a professional choreographer.

Attendees can learn dance styles including jazz, hip hop, contemporary, ballet.

It runs until August 2.

For more details, go to chippingnortontheatre.co.uk.

Motown night

A NEW show celebrating more than 50 years of Motown music comes to the Mill Arts Centre in Banbury on Saturday.

It was in 1959 that Berry Gordy started his Motown Empire in Detroit, and the genre still commands huge audience support to this day.

The show starts at 8pm, and more information is available at themillartscentre.co.uk.

Disability arts

WORKSHOPS, activities and performances for adults with learning disabilities are set to be staged at the Cornerstone in Didcot tomorrow.

Access All Areas will offer a selection of creative projects to people with learning disabilities, as well as an evening of musical entertainment.

For more details, go to cornerstone-arts.org.

Found Footage Festival

A SHOWCASE of quirky and hilarious video clips from across the world will feature in a unique film festival at the Ultimate Picture Palace in Oxford next Thursday.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

The Found Footage Festival has been running in the US for the past 10 years, showing videos found at garage sales and second-hand shops throughout North America.

Hosts Nick Prueher and Joe Pickett offer a live commentary of the footage, along with where-are-they-now updates on the subjects of the clips.

And to celebrate the festival's 10th anniversary, Nick and Joe are bringing the show to 10 locations across the UK, including London, Liverpool and Manchester as well as Oxford.

"We've been coming to the UK for the past four or five years, but we had never been to Oxford before," said Nick.

"Truth be told, I've wanted to visit Oxford ever since Michael J Fox went there on a very special vacation episode of 'Family Ties' in 1985, so this will be a lifelong dream come true."

The pair have amassed more than 6,000 videos, with oddities including a McDonald's training video, a Christmas-themed workout, and a tape entitled 'Butt Camp'.

Their collection has grown extensively since picking up their first find in Wisconsin in 1991, and there's no sign of it slowing down just yet.

"Joe and I tour with our show and in each city we hit local shops and sales looking for unwanted VHS tapes," Nick added.

"Our worry is that they'll end up in landfills, so that's why we tour all around the world to rescue them before they're gone forever.

"Luckily, now that people know about our show they send us videos or bring their finds to our live shows, and that's really helped the project keep going.

"In fact, we'd encourage anyone who's found a video in Oxford to please bring it to the show!"

For more information or for tickets go to uppcinema.com.

STUART RYAN LIVE CONCERT

Regarded as one of the UK's finest fingerstyle guitarists, Stuart Ryan began his professional career in 2002 when he was awarded Guitarist Magazine's 'Acoustic Guitarist of the Year.' He quickly came to the attention of Martin Taylor MBE, one of the world's leading jazz guitarists, who gave Stuart valuable encouragement and asked him to perform at his Kirkmichael Guitar Festival sharing the bill with leading players Tommy Emmanuel and Bireli Lagrene amongst others. An acclaimed performer, Stuart has gone on to share the stage with many of the world's greatest acoustic guitarists including Martin Taylor MBE, Eric Roche, Thomas Leeb and Jon Gomm, all of whom he is proud to count as friends. Several of Stuart's previous students have also gone on to become prominent players themselves such as Youtube sensation Mike Dawes and 'Acoustic Guitarist of the Year 2011' Will McNicol. Stuart's music has also ended up in some unlikely places – Lamb vocalist/songwriter Lou Rhodes was so impressed with Stuart's study pieces that she used one of them in her track 'Rounds' from Lamb's 2011 album '5.'

DIDCOT URBAN RACE 2014

"Run, jog or just walk - this is a fun and exciting event for the Summer Bank Holiday! It's organised by Thames Valley Orienteering Club and is ideal for all ages and abilities - families, children and runners too. An orienteering race does not follow a set route. Instead you have to visit a series of checkpoints and register each one with an electronic timing chip. The checkpoints may be along streets, alleyways, behind bushes in the areas of parkland or even around the Ladygrove lakes. The challenge is to decide what you think the quickest route will be between the checkpoints and then to find your own way along that route using a special orienteering map. The event takes place on Bank Holiday Monday 25 August, around the intricate streets and parkland of the Ladygrove estate. There will be several courses to choose from, ranging from 1km for children in a traffic free area, up to 7km for runners. Help will also be available. Registration and parking will be at Didcot Town FC, Bowmont Water, OX11 7AF. Check out the flyer on our website for more info and entry fees. Just come along on the day between 10am and midday and we'll get you started. Just don't forget your sense of adventure! Please do email us if you have any questions: publicity@tvoc.org.uk

ANHSO - LICHENOMETRY: A METHOD FOR MEASURING TIME IN FAR-AWAY PLACES - DR VANESSA WINCHESTER
"What are lichens, where do they grow and why are they fascinating? Lichenometry is the dating of exposed rock surfaces by lichen growth. Dr Winchester will explain the technique and problems for the basic assumptions. She will describe her initial work on stone circles and subsequently on beach ridges in Sweden, shrinking glaciers in Lappland and the Western Alps, and later in the Chilean Andes, with this linked to climate change.
Dr Winchester worked as an archaeological surveyor at The British School at Rome, before studying Lichenometry in Lappland, Scotland and the Western Alps for her D.Phil.

Summer camp for future scientists!

Java coder summer camp paves the way for advanced programmers

KIDS are firing their imaginations and learning valuable new skills at FunTech's summer camps.

FunTech's Java Coder course will open the doors to the differing worlds of online, game and application programming. As always, FunTech's unique combination of fun, learning and practice will ensure that students acquire advanced skills whilst having a fun filled week! For many students, the Java Coder course is the start of a vocation that culminates in the real world of game, online or application programming. Students will start with some basics, but rapidly move onto mainstream programming concepts that are applicable in many higher level languages. And it doesn't stop there: students will explore and practice the key features of this Object Orientated Higher Level Programming language! This is indeed an advanced course but suitability is judged on aptitude and experience – not necessarily age. So, if a student wants to learn a skill that allows them to create whatever they choose – Java Coder is the place to start! And, as always, with more advanced courses the kids grow in confidence, and come away equipped for the future without even realising it!

To find out more about FunTech's summer camps, visit their website at www.funtech.co.uk to see their full brochure. 01628 621216 info@funtech.co.uk

WIN a VIP day for two at the Dubai International Arabian Races

DUBAI International Arabian Races returns to Newbury Racecourse on Sunday, 10 August and it's bigger and better than ever!

Staged under the patronage of His Highness Sheikh Hamdan bin Rashid Al Maktoum, Deputy Ruler of Dubai and a leading owner and breeder of Arabian horses, it is considered the 'Champions Day' of Arabian racing with a card that includes three Group 1 races attracting runners from across Europe and the Middle East.

Entry is completely FREE for everyone with prize draws, competitions and children's entertainment running throughout the day.

There are thousands of free gifts plus the chance to win fabulous trips to Dubai. And one lucky racegoer will drive away in a brand new car in a special on-the-day free to enter prize draw.

Family entertainment includes henna hand art, a roaming magician and face painters for younger racegoers and there are fabulous prizes to be won in the Best Dressed Lady and Best Home Made Children's Hat competitions.

Closing date:
Friday, August 1, 2014

You could be there on this fantastic day out, soaking up the atmosphere of this unique sporting occasion, as the winner of our easy-to-enter VIP competition.

Our money-can't-buy prize package for two people includes a superb lunch with wine and afternoon tea in a private hospitality suite overlooking the course, and an escorted visit to the parade ring to see the horses and riders up close.

For your chance to win this exceptional prize, simply answer the following question.

Q: Which of these is an iconic building in Dubai? Empire State Building, Eiffel Tower or Burj Khalifa?

T&Cs: Tickets are non-refundable and cannot be exchanged for cash value. Winner will be chosen at random from all correct entries. Entrants must be 18 or over.

Mazda MX-5 marks 25 years

• The Mazda MX-5 Roadster Coupe 2.0-litre 25th anniversary limited edition

REVIEW: Mazda MX-5

By James Richings

ENGINEERS for Mazda were given a brief more than 25 years ago to design a car that was as much of a laugh as British sports cars of the 1960s – but which didn't have their penchant for breaking down.

And the Mazda MX-5 was born.

When global production reached 531,890 units in May 2000, the MX-5 was certified by Guinness World Records as the world's bestselling two-seater sports car in history.

This record was updated again in 2011.

So the Japanese manufacturer decided to bring out the MX-5 Roadster Coupe 2.0-litre 25th anniversary limited edition, to mark the car's 25th anniversary this August.

With the car's different variety of body colours, two petrol engines and convertible roof, the MX-5 is dubbed the ultimate 'let's take a spontaneous drive away' car.

Also known as the Roadster in Central America and in its native Japan, the MX-5 has been described by Top Gear magazine as the best selling sports car on the planet.

The car is such a hit in the UK, that Top Gear presenter Jeremy Clarkson said: "The fact is that if you want a sports car, the MX-5 is perfect.

"Nothing on the road will give you better value. Nothing will give you so much fun. The only reason I'm giving it five stars is because I can't give it 14."

But only 1,000 individually numbered editions will be built.

In a testament to Britain's enduring love affair with open-topped motoring, 750 cars will be made available to UK customers.

The first was unveiled at this year's Goodwood Festival of Speed last month.

The MX-5 is known for its reliability, tight handling and 'fun factor'.

The limited edition car is based on the current Roadster Coupe 2.0-litre Sport Tech Nav variant.

And there's no chance of mistaking this MX-5 for any other down to its model-unique "soul red" metallic paint finish.

The first came to the public eye in February 1989 at the Chicago Auto Show, where it became a massive hit.

Vella backs new recruit Weepu to shine for Welsh

NATHAN Vella is confident fellow New Zealander Piri Weepu will be a big hit at London Welsh this season.

World Cup winner Weepu signed for the Exiles earlier this month from Super 15 side the Blues.

Vella lined up with Weepu during their time at Auckland and is looking forward to linking up with his compatriot once again as Welsh prepare for life in the Aviva Premiership next season.

"It will be good to see him again and catch up when he arrives," said Vella.

"We're not in the Aviva Premiership just to survive, we're here to compete and signing someone like Piri is a huge statement.

"I've never played in the Premiership myself, but he's one of those players that will just slot in.

"He'll be fine."

Vella joined the Exiles in December and believes Weepu will be a big hit with the rest of the squad when he joins next month.

"He's a really good guy, great for the team environment and he's a really skillful player," said Vella.

"He's vocal and he sees the game in a different way to how most people see it.

"He's always willing to help young players and spread his knowledge around".

Vella added: "He's down to earth and he's got time for everyone.

"He'll get his head down and just be another member of the team."

The Dragons' Kiwi contingent is now up to five with Weepu joining Daniel Brown, Cameron Goodhue, Vella and team manager Sonny Parker.

Vella says it has helped raise the club's popularity on the other side of the world.

"It's definitely raised the profile of the Club back home," he said.

"Piri's one of the most famous rugby players over the last 10 years and it's really put London Welsh on the map as an Aviva Premiership club."

The Exiles' first pre-season friendly is against Henley Hawks on August 9.

Tonkin relishing new challenge

LONDON Welsh have appointed a performance analyst to help boost their chances of becoming a competitive top-flight outfit.

Richard Tonkin joins from Aviva Premiership side Wasps where he spent three years working with the first team.

He has also previously worked with the South Africa Women's 7s team.

"It's exciting," he said. "It's a close-knit team here and the new guys seem to be settling in well, and complementing the guys that were already here.

"I'm really looking forward to the new season."

Head coach Justin Burnell added: "It's great to have Richard on board.

"He's fitted in remarkably well in a short space of time.

"I've no doubt his knowledge will be hugely beneficial in helping us compete next season."

City beat local rivals Didcot in friendly

JAVI Rodriguez and Felipe Barcelos were on the scoresheet as Oxford City beat Didcot Town 2-0 at Loop Meadow on Tuesday night.

Justin Merritt's side edged what turned out to be a competitive friendly against a Didcot side that has impressed during pre-season.

Rodriguez delightfully curled the ball into the top corner from 20 yards on 36 minutes before Barcelos fired past Alex Williams with seven minutes remaining.

City are showing all the hallmarks of becoming an eye-catching side in the Conference North and Merritt was pleased with the movement of his attacking players.

"I'm not looking at anyone as a wide player or a striker," he said.

"Everybody has got to move and what we are looking at is the principles of dropping into spaces.

"We haven't quite got there yet but that's where the goals come from and I think players like to have that freedom."

Merritt also praised Spanish forward Rodriguez who, as well as scoring an impressive opener on Tuesday, has shown glimpses of his ability in pre-season so far.

"Everybody that has seen Javi can recognise what a great player he is going to be," said Merritt.

"His touches and the way he drifts in and out and a moment of quality - it was certainly a goal worth coming to see."

Kitson calls time on his extensive career

OXFORD United striker Dave Kitson has ended his illustrious playing career after announcing his retirement from football earlier this week.

The 34-year-old, who joined the club last summer, has had the final season of his two-year contract ended and left by mutual consent on Monday.

Kitson, who played in the Premier League for Reading and Stoke City, made his last appearance for United in their 1-0 friendly win over Oxford City on July 15.

The former Portsmouth and Sheffield United man scored four goals for the U's last season.

He was absent from United's 1-0 win at Didcot Town last Saturday and head coach Michael Appleton said at the time he had given the 34-year-old the weekend off after a tough week of training.

On Monday, Appleton described Kitson as a "very honest man" who he has "a lot of respect for".

Appleton added: "He came to me on Friday and told me that he would like to retire.

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

"I asked him to take the weekend to think it over.

"It is a massive decision for any player to have to take and I felt he deserved a little time to weigh it all up.

"He came back to us over the weekend and told us that his mind was made up, and so we respect that decision and wish Dave all the best for the future."

It has been a busy week for United so far with Derek Fazackerley announced as assistant head coach and Mark Thomas as head of performance and recruitment analysis.

Fazackerley, who has worked alongside Kevin Keegan for England and Sven Goran Eriksson at Manchester City, will work with Appleton and first team coach Mickey Lewis.

The 62-year-old said: "It is a really exciting challenge.

"Michael Appleton is a good young manager with great ideas about the game and I would love to help him achieve success at Oxford. The club is set-up well, there are young players coming through and the whole club is progressive and ambitious."

Thomas joins the U's from Portsmouth where he was head of performance analysis.

He will work with video analyst Dan Bond and said: "I enjoyed my time at Portsmouth but having spoken with Michael believe there are exciting times ahead here at Oxford."

United remained unbeaten in pre-season last weekend with a 1-0 win over Division One South & West side Didcot.

James Roberts scored the only goal of the game on 54 minutes.

United's development side face Abingdon Town tonight to help the Abbots raise funds after last winter's floods.

Stars get first recruit ahead of new season

CANADIAN ice hockey player Kyle Flemington has been announced as Oxford City Stars' first signing of the summer.

The 22-year-old defender is moving to the UK from Ontario, and will be ready for the Stars when the season gets underway in September.

Flemington has played in and won the Ontario Hockey League, and is looking forward to competing in the National Ice Hockey League 1 over the coming season.

"I came to Oxford because the Stars are an up-and-coming team having won the championship two years in a row," said Flemington.

"All in all it was very appealing to me and I just can't wait to get on the ice."

Team coach Darren Elliott added: "Kyle's a great team guy. He's got that size and presence on the ice that any team would want.

"He knows the game inside out and it'll be amazing to have somebody like him behind us."

Elliott added that he has been speaking to a number of prospective signings, and will be making further announcements soon.

Miserable run continues for Wantage

WANTAGE Town's winless run in pre-season continued on Tuesday night with a 1-0 defeat at home to Hellenic Premier Division side Thatcham Town.

Yashwa Romeo scored the only goal of the game on 75 minutes in a game Wantage can take plenty of positives from.

Freds manager Gary Ackling was without Tom Melledew, Josh Cottrell, Jimmy Deabill and Jon Steedman but his side showed a determination to forget last Saturday's 6-1 defeat to Conference North side Oxford City.

Jake Johns should have given Wantage the lead but missed an open goal after good work from Ben McCready.

However, it was Thatcham who took their chance as an unmarked Romeo headed past Gareth Tucker with 15 minutes remaining.

Wantage thought they had equalised late on but Matt Pedder, who rounded the keeper and slotted home, was offside from Gavin Kidd's inch-perfect pass.

The Freds are next in action tonight when they face Easington Sports before they make the short trip to Milton United on Saturday.

Wantage then face Abingdon United and Purton before beginning their Division One South & West campaign at home to Taunton Town on August 9.

Sean in top-10

CHIPPING Norton racer Sean Walkinshaw moved into the top-10 of the EuroFormula Open championship standings after a seventh place finish at Silverstone on Saturday.

He achieved the result in the first race at the Northamptonshire track, with the second ending in disappointment when a crash on lap two cost Walkinshaw potential points.

But he is up to 10th in the championship table with 30 points, and now has a seven-week break before the next round of the season in Belgium on September 6 and 7.

Trip up north

OXFORD Rugby League return to action on Saturday, when they make the trip to play Gateshead Thunder.

It has been a tough season for Oxford, who have won just five of their 15 fixtures this year.

Oxford have faced Gateshead twice already this season, losing them both by scorelines of 47-29 and 36-22 respectively.

Close to win

OXFORDSHIRE CCC came close to victory over Dorset in the Minor Counties Cricket League on Sunday, but ultimately had to settle for a home draw.

A first innings of 262 for Oxfordshire compared to Dorset's 280 was followed by the hosts declaring on 329-8.

They were able to get Dorset to 281-9, but couldn't take the final wicket they needed to secure the victory.

County trio make squad for worlds

OXFORDSHIRE rowing trio Katie Greves, Olivia Carnegie-Brown and Brianna Stubbs have been selected to compete at the Rowing World Championships in Amsterdam next month.

Greves and Carnegie-Brown were both named in a squad of nine for the women's eight.

They are joined by former Oxford University cox Zoe De Toledo, who was a part of the Boat Race squad in 2012.

"We're really excited looking forward," said De Toledo.

"But now we need to get down to business and work as hard as we can between now and Amsterdam."

Stubbs, from Headington, will compete in the lightweight women's quadruple scull.

She won a gold medal at the World Under-23 Championships last year in the lightweight double, and is looking forward to the challenge in Amsterdam.

"I'm really excited and proud to have been selected for my first senior championships," said Stubbs.

"I'm looking forward to stepping on from the performances we've had over the last few weeks at Henley and Lucerne."

The championships get underway on August 24.

LOTUS STILL OFF THE PACE

PASTOR Maldonado equalled his best result for the Enstone-based Lotus F1 team at the German Grand Prix on Sunday, but is still waiting to score his first points of 2014.

A 12th-place finish at the Hockenheim circuit matched what Maldonado achieved in Austria last month, but the Lotus is still off the speed of the midfield runners.

He had been running in 10th-place which would have earned him a point during the race, but dropped back in the closing stages.

It comes as Maldonado was confirmed to stay at Lotus for the 2015 season over the German Grand Prix weekend.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

"It was a tough race from the beginning," he said.

"The pace looked consistent. I did my best to manage the tyre degradation, which was quite high, and we were able to do only two pitstops.

"The initial plan included three stops but we had a competitive first stint so we went for plan B, which worked well for us today."

But it was a tougher race for fellow Lotus driver Romain Grosjean, who recorded his fourth retirement in 10 races after a cooling issue.

Grosjean had made a strong start to move up to 12th from 14th, but was forced out of the race on lap 26.

"Our overall pace was quite good," said Grosjean.

"I suffered from a loss of power due to an issue with our cooling system so I was asked to switch off the car.

"It's such a shame as we were on a different strategy from our rivals so we looked like we could be on course for scoring points."

Meanwhile, Leafield-based Caterham managed to get both of their cars to the end of the race, with Kamui Kobayashi coming home in 16th and Marcus Ericsson 18th.

Lotus remain eighth in the constructors' standings with eight points, while Caterham prop up the table.

They return to action this weekend for the Hungarian Grand Prix, being held at the Hungaroring circuit near Budapest.
